Front-end Web Developer

🐾 ABOUT

I am passionate about learning how things work, which is why I've, chose Veterinary Medicine. Also I'm an animal lover and an emphatic person.

Beyond that, I'm curious, self-learning and I have a critical mind. I've decided to learn front-end development because I wanted to develop my IT skills gained in the high school period. I think front end development it's the perfect way to combine my skills with my creative mind.
